Chorus Of Ex-GI's Is Presentation On Artist Series Program Sunday

The Winged Victory Chorus, a group of 21 ex-GI's, will spotlight the next presentation of the University Artist Series on Sunday, Jan. 22, beginning at 8:15 p.m. in the Men's Gym.

The Chorus, under the direction of Joseph Baris, an ex-high school music teacher, was developed while he was serving overseas with the Forty-third Infantry Division. This newly-organized civilian group has 21 of the original 36 soldier members.

The group toured Europe as an Army choral group and is now touring the United States as a civilian chorus.

Mr. Baris began the chorus in 1950 for a Christmas choral program. In March, 1952, the Army Special Services ordered that the chorus be reorganized as a permanent Army unit. They toured Germany, Austria, Italy, France, Luxemburg, the Netherlands, and England. In addition, they broadcast weekly over the American Forces Network, appeared frequently on television shows, filmed newsreels, and made recordings for the German Radio Network.

Tickets for this Artist Series presentation will be available at the box office in the Administration Bldg. from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. today.

Student admission tickets must be picked up prior to 4:30 p.m. Friday. There is no charge when an activity card is presented.

Faculty and other persons may purchase reserved balcony seats at $1.50 each during the same box office hours.

Home Econ, Classroom Buildings Construction Planned For 1956

BULLETIN: The entire $1,466,744 was appropriated by the Ohio Legislature Wednesday evening. President McDonald presented the request for funds to the House committee.

The request before the state legislature for appropriation of $1,466,744 for capital improvements at Bowling Green State University will be directed to three purposes.

Two buildings are expected to be constructed with funds made available at the special session; a small Home Economics Bldg., to cost $250,000 and a general classroom building for instruction in various fields of arts and sciences, expected to cost $800,000. Construction will begin on these in 1956.

Plan Three Projects

The third purpose will request $80,850 for architects' fees to plan projects totaling $1,925,000 for 1957 and 1958. The architects fees will be used to plan three projects, on which construction will begin in 1957 and 1958. These include conversion of the present Practical Arts Bldg. into a classroom building for the College of Business Administration, at a cost of $275,000; unit two of the physical science building, connected with the present Chemistry Bldg., to provide for instruction in mathematics, physics, and geology as well as chemistry, at a cost of $650,000; and a multi-purpose building for use in health and physical education, military science, air science and assembly hall purposes, at a cost of $1,000,000.

More Money Needed

Plans for these three buildings will go forward with appropriations from the special session now in progress, but further appropria-

The University Artist Series will present The Winged Victory Chorus Sunday in the Men's Gym. The group has toured France, England, the Netherlands, Austria, Luxemburg, Germany, and Italy and have a weekly program over the American Forces Network.

Cast Tells Music Tale In Junior Show Tonight

The Main Auditorium will be loaded with student talent tonight as the junior class presents a musical review entitled "Get With It," beginning at 8:15 p.m.

The review differs from an ordinary talent show in that it tells a story. The setting for this musical saga is a lodge in the Catskill Mountains. James Shaftner, played by Gary

Manager Has Pneumonia

Ervin J. Kreischer, University business manager, became ill with virus pneumonia Jan. 3. He is now recuperating at his home and will be unable to resume his duties for about four weeks.

Davis, and his new review take over an old barn owned by "Pop" who is played by Dr. Melvin Hyman of the speech department.

The story revolves around two principle plots. One plot deals with "Pop's" trials and tribulations with his stage-struck daughter, Shirley Klotz, which adds much humor to the story. The other is built around the age-old hassles of a love triangle. Margo Shaftner, played by Maxine Brown who is the female lead, is being wooed by Roger Jameson, played by James Rodgers Jr., the male lead. Margo's husband, James, naturally takes a dim view of the situation.

The show will open with "Anything Goes," done by the complete vocal cast. The program of individual numbers includes "Mountain Music," by the male quartet; "Love Me Or Leave Me," vocal by Mary Jo Buemi; "Birth of the Blues," vocal by Robert Stein; "Make Believe," vocal by Shirley Klotz; "Man in the Raincoat," (Continued on page 2)

Debaters Finish Third In Wesleyan Tourney

Bowling Green University's men debaters finished third in the debate tournament at Ohio Wesleyan, Saturday, Jan. 14. Dan Wawrzyniak and Robert Smith presented the affirmative and Roland Williams and Larry Gardner the negative. Ohio University won the tournament.

Raymond Yeager, debate coach, felt "pleased with the showing of the debaters as it was the first tournament for three of them."

East-West Go; 60 Men Move

Two men's groups are moving into campus residence halls next semester, announced John W. Bunn, director of plant and residential operations. Sixty students living in East and West Halls will move to Rodgers Quadrangle or other housing units.

Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, because of crowded conditions in their off-campus house, will move into Campus Cottage. The Phi Taus are one of three off-campus fraternities who have applied for on-campus housing because of overcrowded conditions.

Campus Cottage now houses upperclass women and once was used as the president's home. It is located south of the Library.

The University plans to have East and West residence halls torn down eventually, reported Mr. Bunn. Falcon Hall, another temporary building, was vacated last year.

The buildings were moved to Bowling Green by the government after World War II to assist in housing the postwar influx of students.

Court Post Goes To Lauer; Seats Full For Semester

Robert Lauer, a senior majoring in journalism in the College of Business Administration, was selected to serve as a justice on the Student Court Monday, Jan. 16, announced Jack Roth, chairman of the University committee on student leadership and service.

The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Robert Smith, senior justice, due to a class conflict during the second semester, which would not allow him to attend Court sessions.

The final selection of Lauer from among the other applicants was made by the committee which includes Smith, Sally Moran, Fran Isch, Dean Florence Currier, Dr. Elden T. Smith, and Walter Freauff.

The other members of the student court are Brad Greenberg, chief justice; Diane Johnson, senior justice; Fred Ashley and Anne DuPuy, junior justices.

Lauer will assume his position on the Court bench at the next court session.

A scale model of the Student Union arrived on campus last week and this is the first picture of the model. This view from above gives some perspective of the hugeness of the union.

The scale is one-quarter inch equals one foot, and the front length of the building is 282 feet. This model will be used in connection with the design and decoration of the interiors, which is being done by Ken White Associates of New York.

When the designers have made sufficient use of the scale model for their planning, the model is expected to be placed on display so that all persons in the University may see it.

The model was made by Lloyd A. Stahl and Associates of Monroe, Mich. (See Page 2 for another picture.)

ODK Taps 11 Men; McFall To Speak

Ten undergraduate students, seven seniors and three juniors, were tapped for membership into Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary for men, in a pre-dawn ceremony Tuesday, Jan. 17. Dr. Kenneth H. McFall, University provost, was cited by the Beta Tau Circle of ODK as an honorary member.

Nest Offers Longer Hours; Carry-Outs Also Allowed Now

Beginning tonight, the Nest will be open until 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, announced Leonard L. Cipra, Nest manager.

The Nest will continue to close at 10 p.m., Sunday through Thursday.

Also, starting Friday night, short orders, whether to be eaten in the Nest or to be carried out, may be ordered after 8 p.m. each night. The menu includes grilled wiener, cheese, ham salad, or cheese and ham sandwiches; hamburgers, cheeseburgers, French fries, and "submarine" sandwiches, a new feature of the Nest.

A complete line of sodas, sundaes, malts, and milk shakes will also be available during the evening hours.

Greeks Choose Group Heads

Fifteen students were appointed as chairmen of the various Greek Week committees this week by Angie Carcione and Fred Ashley, general co-chairmen of the 1955-56 Greek Week Committee.

The Interfraternity Sing on Sunday, April 15, will inaugurate the Week's activities, and will be headed by Dick Barbato. Al O'Donnell heads the Community Project Committee, which concludes the Week on Saturday, April 21. The Greek Week dance is planned for Friday, April 20.

Other committee chairmen are Jack Jacobs and Nancy Plummer, Dance; Don Phinney, Interfraternity Council Banquet; Nancy Watkins, Panhellenic Council Banquet; Charlotte Sennett and Bob Ferguson, Publicity; Mary Anne Majewski and Doug Eggleston, Exchange Dinners.

Norman Brown and Joan Nichols, Outstanding Greek; Richard Henningsen, Interfraternity Council Keys; and Tom Garmhausen and Bill Brannan, Dance Cleanup. Gretchen Grove was appointed secretary for Greek Week, and Herb Hipp, treasurer.

Hissong Reports On White House Forum

At the fourth annual meeting of the Northwestern Ohio School Boards Association, on campus Saturday, the members were told by Dr. Clyde Hissong, former state director of education, that most communities favored federal aid in their education system.

Commenting on the recent White House Conference on Education, Dr. Hissong said that a majority of the 1,600 delegates favored financial aid from the Federal Government, but with the stipulation that there be no controls. "They said, we'll take the federal money, but leave out the restrictions," Dr. Hissong reported.

Dr. Hissong added that "The White House Conference was a great lesson on how to work cooperatively with people on any level."

Dr. C. K. Miller, director of the division of audio-visual aids in the Department of Education, spoke to 150 school board members on the use of audio-visual aids in the classroom. He stated that through the use of movies, slides and other aids, teachers are more effective and students remember more and longer.

The seniors and the areas of outstanding student leadership for which they were recognized are:

Robert Darling and James Stockton, scholarship; James Gordon, publications; Robert Lauer, John Roth, John Gargus, and Russell Hall, student government, social, and religious affairs.

The junior tappers included Lanny Miles and Dan Duricy, athletics; and Fred Ashley, speech, music, and dramatic arts.

Formal Initiation

These 11 persons will be initiated at 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon, Jan. 22, in Prout Chapel at a formal ceremony which will be open to ODK members only.

Following the initiation, Dr. McFall will address a group of approximately 100 student, faculty, and administrative leaders. The title of his address is "A Reasonable Expectation." Dr. McFall's recognition by ODK comes in his 13th year at the University, having served as professor of psychology, and dean of the College of Liberal Arts, before assuming the new position of provost last September.

The pre-dawn tapping was conducted between 3:30 and 6 a.m. Tuesday, as five active ODK student members awoke the initiates in their homes and residence halls. The tapping group consisted of undergraduates Robert Smith, Brad Greenberg, Andrew Ogg, Robert Fitch, and graduate student Gerald Murray.

Student Leaders

Darling's activities include the presidency of Delta Epsilon and Society for Advancement of Management. He has a 3.75 accumulative point average. Stockton has a 3.5 scholastic average, is past president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary for men, and has been active in many University choral groups.

Gordon is editor of the Key, University yearbook, and has been photo editor of the yearbook and The B-G News. He is also a member of the University Publications Committee.

Lauer was chairman of the campus chest drive, a student senator, IFC member, staff member of the B-G News and Freshman Handbook, and recently was appointed a justice on the Student Court. Roth is president of the United Christian Fellowship, chairman of the University committee on student leadership and service, and past vice-president of the A Cappella Choir.

Gargus is president of both Phi Kappa Psi, social fraternity, and Beta Pi Theta, French honorary, and is a Distinguished Military Student. Hall is president of Pi Omega Pi, national business education honorary, and Quill Type, and holds a student assistantship in the Office of Student Activities.

Miles is president of Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, social fraternity, and the junior class. He has earned a varsity letter in basketball, as well as freshman numerals.

Faculty Members

Duricy is a member of the varsity track and cross-country teams and has a 3.5 accumulative average. Ashley is president of Book and Motor, scholarship honorary, chairman of Greek Week, and has played major roles in numerous University Theatre productions.

Other active ODK members include, among the faculty, Dr. Paul Leedy, Dr. Emerson Shuck, Raymond Yeager, Dr. Herschel Litherland, and Dr. Lloyd A. Helms, and graduate student, Roger Kasten.

All ODK members can be identified for the remainder of the week by their aqua, black, and white ribbons.

In Our Opinion

Shortened Games Questioned

Some confusion is apparent in the minds of many students concerning the practice of cutting time off freshman basketball games. This team, unbeaten in ten games, has been dazzling every opponent, and is drawing crowds equal to those at the varsity games. So, when three or four minutes are lopped off near the end of the game, students have written asking why.

It is not, as has been charged, an effort to keep the team winning, if the score is close. That belief is as unfounded as possible.

Freshman games begin at 6:15 and must end at 7:30 to allow the varsity teams one-half hour for warm-ups, practice, introductions, and other paraphernalia that precede the 8 p.m. games. This is 75 minutes, more than enough time for the 40-minute freshman game, if the game proceeds without undue interruptions.

But, if the referee is late for the game, as happened last Saturday night, and if the teams take the maximum number of time-outs, then the extra time dwindles. In fact, it may run out, as it did against Kent, and three minutes of basketball was lost. This procedure is not uncommon, but is a general practice at most colleges and universities where the freshman game is played before that of the varsity.

This instance happens very seldom, and starting the game earlier would cut down the number of spectators because of the dinner meal time.

This is a view of the rear of the Student Union as depicted in the scale model which is expected to be ready soon for student presentation. The curved projection is part of the main ballroom of the Union.

Off The Record

Students Demand All-Night Study; Expectant Father Airs Odd Gripe

By DICK BUDD

It's quite evident that students attending Antioch College are there with one purpose in mind, that is to study. A few weeks back, an editorial appeared in the Antioch newspaper crusading for a 3 a.m. closing hour for the library. Much to our dismay, this request seemed to be a concession from an earlier one that asked that the building remain open 24 hours a day. Apparently the present 1 a.m. closing hour sends the studious home at too early an hour.

According to the editorial, the newspaper conducted a poll which proved unanimously in favor of a 24-hour-a-day program. Students, the editorial continues, "... feel a crying need for a comfortable, well-lighted, all-night study space." We should be so privileged.

Many things are opened by mistake; but none so frequently as one's mouth.

Discussing the state of an expectant father with some friends the other evening, an incident that happened to a friend a few years back was brought to mind. After bringing his wife to the hospital, our friend waited nervously and most impatiently in the anteroom of the hospital. About a half hour later, another young father-to-be entered the waiting room with our friend.

As the hours progressed, a young woman entered the room, passed by our friend and delivered glad tidings to the other gentleman. Without thinking what he was saying or doing, our friend jumped from his seat shouting to the nurse, "But I was here first!"

It seems impossible that one person's friends could have so many ridiculous and comical experiences, but ours can keep us laughing without exception.

A former roommate of ours, Danny Kaiser, left the University several months back for a two-year tour with the Army. He ended up by choice, Heaven forbid, in the paratroops. Shortly after earning his wings, Dan was making a jump in the southern part of the country when his parachute failed to open properly. Miraculously he came out of this mishap alive, suffering nothing but a badly sprained and twisted ankle.

Shortly after returning to duty, he was out one night on bivouac. Upon retiring he crawled into his sleeping bag, only to find he had company. A good-sized rattlesnake had picked Dan's sack to sleep in and bit him on the leg as he slid in. (This is the wonderful life we see advertised so much on TV.)

duet by Maxine Boger, vocalist, and Margaret Neumann, dancer; "How Ya Gonna," vocal by Suzanne Moran; a pantomime by Sue Clafin; "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better," vocal duet by the leads, Brown and Rodgers. This concludes the first act of the show.

The second act opens with "Anything Goes" again but it is done by the dancers this time. The first individual number is a short review by the female quartet. The remainder of the program is as follows: "It's a Good Day," vocal by Rodgers; "Siberia," by the vocal chorus; "Ten Cents a Dance," vocal by Gwendolyn Wilkes; "Just a Little One," monologue by Juanita Baugh; "Tambour," by the dance chorus; "Blow, Gabriel Blow," vocal by Frank Glann; "Watermelon Weather," by the female quartet; "My Funny Valentine," vocal by Herb Moorehead; "Let's Be Buddies," vocal duet by Buemi and Glann; "Autumn In New York," piano solo by Joseph Dunlap; and "It Had To Be You," vocal by Brown. "There's No Business Like Show Business" is the final number with the entire cast participating.

Other members of the cast not doing individual numbers but singing, dancing, or acting in the review include Douglas Cotner, Phyllis O'Reilly, Karis Stahl, Delores Kolthoff, John Wolfe, Merlin Sousz, Dave Hall, Phyllis Smith, Mary Lou Robinson, Kay Davis, Cindy Dicken, Rita Couk, Ann Tabor, Nancy Looman, Betty Beall, Joan McKinney, June Fritsch, Jackie Strine.

The general accompanists are Joseph Dunlap, piano; Royce Hutchinson, piano and Blaine Moody, drums.

WBGU To Air Classical Series

An educational approach to classical music is the theme for 26 fifteen-minute programs to be aired over campus radio station WBGU beginning Thursday.

The series is entitled, "Music in the Making," reports Sidney C. Stone, station director. For purposes of clarity, each program and its subject matter is divided into a historical and technical approach, according to Mr. Stone. A narrator will interject his explanations at critical moments throughout each brief concert.

The next program, "Choral Music in the Romantic Period," is to be followed by another entitled, "Early Italian Opera." The program can be heard each week at 7:45 p.m.

Millikin University produced the series for the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, with W. St. Clare Minturn, director of the Millikin School of Music as consultant.

In Memory

A memorial fund has been established for the death of one of the twin girls of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Bock. Rev. Bock is director of UCF and contributions will be accepted at the UCF house.

Prospective Rushees To Sign In Office

According to Interfraternity Council rushing rules, freshmen and upperclassmen must sign up in the Dean of Men's Office to be eligible for fraternity rushing.

All freshmen and upperclassmen who wish to participate in rushing must sign up between noon, Feb. 8 and noon, Feb. 13. IFC emphasizes that failure to sign up will make rushees ineligible for second semester rushing. Myron Jacobs, IFC vice-president, said.

Bermuda Vacation Trip Taken By Dr. Mayfield

As Dr. Sam M. Mayfield, chairman of the geology department, boarded the Bowling Green State University student train bound for New York City, Dec. 21, he was not sure whether his Christmas vacation would be spent in Bermuda, as he had hoped, or in New York City.

Upon his arrival in New York City, Dr. Mayfield went to the Pan-American Airline Office, but all plane reservations for Bermuda were taken. As he was ready to leave the airline office two cancellations came in. So on Dec. 24, Dr. Mayfield once again boarded another means of transportation: this time a Pan-American Stratocruiser. Three hours later he was with his nephew, who is stationed at Kindly Air Base in Bermuda.

According to Dr. Mayfield, the island which is 150 to 200 feet above sea level, is quite hilly and displays many beautiful caves. The climate is similar to San Francisco, cool but pleasant in the sun. It is warm enough now on the island for many flowers are in bloom, and there is fruit on the orange, lemon, and banana trees.

Dr. Mayfield saw most of the island in his nephew's English car which, according to law on the island, may be driven only by the owner and not more than 15 miles per hour. Driving English style, driving on the wrong side of the road to us, gave him a few scares.

One sight-seeing spot, said Dr. Mayfield, is St. George, a historical place of interest on the island where in the fifteen hundreds, ports were held by the British.

Dr. Mayfield also visited some of the quarries on the island and collected many samples to use in his classes.

Five Attend National Management Meeting

Two students and three professors of the business education department attended the National Office Management Association meeting in Toledo last week.

Dr. Galen Stutsman, chairman of the department, and Mearl Guthrie, assistant professor of business education, are members of the association. Attending as guests were Howard H. Kane, associate professor of accounting, and the two students, Russell Hall and George Spees.

Gluck Foundation Presents $100 Gift

The Gluck Philosophy Foundation, Inc., of Columbus, has given the philosophy department a $100 cash gift to purchase needed books for the library, stated Dr. Tom H. Tuttle, chairman of the department.

One stipulation is that the books must go to the permanent collection of books at the library for student usage in philosophy. Stickers will be placed in the new books to show the presentation by the Gluck Foundation.

Dr. Tuttle is preparing the list of books to be purchased.

Cadets Set Up 8-Man Council

An eight-member Cadet Council has been set up by the AFROTC cadet wing staff, stated Col. Carl G. Arnold, professor of air science. The purpose of the Council is to give each cadet a greater voice in the running of his corps, Colonel Arnold said. The Council will act as a bridge between cadets and the cadet wing staff.

Any cadet who has complaints or suggestions will be heard by the Cadet Council. The cadet wing staff feels that the Council will help to run the corps more efficiently.

Members of the Cadet Council and the groups they represent are: Owen Y. Macy and George A. McLain, Air Science I; Phillip F. Brooks and Charles McBee, Air Science II; Paul V. Wagner and Thomas Snide, Air Science III; Halbert A. Bickman and C. Donald Schumacher, Air Science IV.

Smith, Conley Give Debate At Findlay Rotary

Robert Smith and Delores Conley will present a cross-examination debate before the Rotary Club of Findlay, Monday, Jan. 23. This is a continuance of the service club series.

Official Announcements

All Library books are due Wednesday, Feb. 1.

Students may complete registration forms and pay fees for the second semester between Jan. 23 and Feb. 2.

Rehearsal for February Commencement will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 2, in the main auditorium.

Seniors who will graduate in February and have already accepted positions are requested to stop in the Bureau of Appointments to bring their credentials up to date.

The final edition of the B-G News for the first semester will be published Tuesday, Jan. 24.

Students may secure their 1955 W-2 Income Withholding Tax Statements at the Business Office Cashier window. These statements are necessary for filing your Federal Income Tax return.

Floyd, 14 Members Invited To Wauseon Shakespeare Lecture

Dr. Giles R. Floyd, associate professor of English, and 14 members of the Shakespeare seminar attended a lecture given by Calvin Hoffman at a meeting of the Wauseon Shakespeare Club Jan. 17.

Mr. Hoffman is the author of the recently published book, "The Murder of the Man Who Was William Shakespeare." Within the past few years he has received wide publicity and has provoked much discussion among scholars as a result of his efforts to prove his theory that Christopher Marlowe wrote the plays commonly attributed to Shakespeare; and that Sir Francis Walsingham, Marlowe's patron, hired Shakespeare, who was then an Elizabethan actor, to pose as the author of the plays.

Students making the trip were Mary Becker, Arthur Brestel, James Dawson, Carol Doren, Ruth Eisenman, Charles Fasnau, Marilyn Lundell, Mrs. Eula F. Peters, Catherine Quealy, Joyce Redman, Lawrence Scoby, C. Robert Smith, Marilyn Stubbe and Ralph Wolfe.

Journalism Students Visit Weekly Paper

The newspaper management class will visit this afternoon the Northwest News, a weekly newspaper in Napoleon.

Don Orwig, publisher of the Northwest News, will conduct the tour and answer questions.

Prof. Robert A. Steffes, assistant professor of journalism, and the following members of the class will make the trip: Robert Bricker, Joan Honkala, Ralph Wells, Mary Bryant, Richard Budd, Janet Crane, Gene Davis, and Brad Greenberg. The group will leave at 2 p.m. today.

Old, Modern Bindings Exhibited

Three hundred and ninety-four years of representative book bindings from 1561 through 1955 are now on exhibit in the Library.

The oldest book on display, bound in Venice, 1561, is of elaborately decorated white vellum with ornate clasp bindings which hold the book together when it is closed. The hinges, in the spine of the book, are made of heavy cord, decoratively covered by the leather binding.

The majority of the bindings from the year 1561 through 1810 are all leather, with a few being of quarter leather. In the latter cases one-quarter of the binding is done on leather, and the remainder in paper, cloth, or other material.

On many of the leather bindings, gold printing and elaborate tooling emphasize designs ranging from floral to plain diamond patterns. The designs add to the interest of the books.

Unusual for the period is a book bound in London, 1838, which except for the label. The binding, done in a red marbled paper design makes a pretty binding, but not one that would stand up under hard use.

The binding of a Swedish Textile book done in Stockholm, Sweden, 1925, ties in with the contents of the book in that the binding is done partly in orange leather, and partly in striped textile-like blue paper.

Modern bindings of the 1900's are displayed in the bottom shelf of the exhibit case. In many it does not have any leather on it stances the subject matter of a book is expressed in the cover. For example, a book on Navaho Weaving has a Navaho pattern printed on the binding. Another binding is also used on a Creative Handicraft book bound in 1955.

An example of a printed, lightweight cloth binding may be seen on a book printed in Barcelona, Spain, 1931.

In recent years simplicity in bindings has tended to replace the elaborate bindings of earlier periods.

Colorful cloth or paper covers used with neatly placed lettering make the books of 1950 though 1955 as interesting for their simplicity as the decorative books of the 1700's were for their elaborateness.

The current display on book bindings was assembled by Hubert P. Stone, reference librarian.

BG Host To OU; Seek End To Losing Streak

Bowling Green's basketball team will attempt to end a six-game losing streak, and escape the MAC cellar Saturday night against Ohio U. in the Men's Gym.

Bowling Green and Ohio U. are tied for last place in the conference, each with one victory. However, the Falcons have lost five games, and Ohio four. The Bobcats, despite an experienced team, have been unable to click in conference games, although winning seven of thirteen games overall. Their lone conference victory was over Kent State, while they have lost to Western Michigan, Miami, and twice to Marshall.

Played In KIT Tournament

Both BG and OU played on the Kentucky Invitational Tournament during the holidays, but did not meet each other. OU lost its first game in this tourney to Western Kentucky, but won its next two, upsetting Morehead State in its final game.

Coach Jim Snyder has been juggling the Bobcats line-up all season, so the starting team is uncertain. Juniors Scotty Griesheimer, 6' 2", and Fred Moore, 6' 4", will probably be at the forward positions. Don Evans, a 6' 4" junior, is the probable starter at center, although 6' 4" Henry Pell will see considerable action. Don Garrison, 6' 3", will be at one guard, with either Garry Weinbrecht, 6' 3", or Larry Morrison, 6' 1", as his running mate. The latter three are seniors.

Griesheimer Top Scorer

The team's leading scorer to date is Griesheimer with 175 points, for a 14.5 average. Griesheimer, who returned from the service this year, has only recently cracked the starting line-up despite his scoring ability. In the Kentucky tournament he scored 49 points in the three games and made the all-tournament team, but was never in the starting line-up. Griesheimer also leads the team in rebounding and shooting percentage.

Moore, at the other forward, was last year's team scoring leader, with 15.5 points a game.

Champion Browns Draft Jack Hecker At Grid Meeting

Jack Hecker, following in the footsteps of his older brothers, appears headed for the National Football League upon graduation. The Cleveland Browns selected the dynamic Falcon end on the ninth round of the annual professional draft choices.

JACK HECKER

The good-natured Bowling Green senior said, "I'm happy about the selection," when he learned that the world champions had chosen him. He intends to play with Paul Brown's behemoths. That is, after the contract is signed.

The Olmsted Falls product has already nailed down several honors. He is an All-Ohio and All-Mid-American end. In the Blue-Gray game he caught five passes of Wisconsin's Jim Haluska. With the Browns he will work with such touted masters of the aerial game as Vito "Babe" Parilli and George Ratterman.

Green Leads Dukes Over Falcons, 76-54

One-man team Sihugo Green proved too much for the Bowling Green cage quintet. The Duquesne All-American broke a school scoring record as he dented the cords for 44 points while the Iron Dukes humbled the Falcons, 76-54, at the Pittsburgh Gardens.

Green matched the entire Bowling Green output in the first half by notching 22 points. He duplicated that in the second half before leaving the contest with four and a half minutes remaining.

Jim Tucker, forward for the 1952 Dukes, owned the former mark of 42.

The Falcons, in losing their eleventh of fifteen games, were able to hit on only 25 per cent of their shots. Coach Duddy Moore's outfit hit on 42 per cent of their field goal attempts. BG's Chrystal "Boo" Ellis starred in a losing cause as he tallied 20 points.

Schembechler Goes To Northwestern

Edward "Bo" Schembechler, interior line coach for the Falcons' football team last year has resigned his post to go to Northwestern University as an assistant coach to Ara Parseghian. Parseghian is the newly appointed coach who recently resigned his head coaching job at Miami University.

Nators Beat Kenyon; Eight Records Broken

Setting eight new dual meet records in the process, the Bowling Green swimmers took eight out of ten first places to defeat Kenyon College, the Ohio Conference relay champions, 54-30, Wednesday evening in the Natatorium.

The Kenyon squad, loaded with four prep-school All-Americans, was predicted by coach Samuel Cooper to be the toughest squad his Falcon swimmers would face this year.

BG Wins Medley Relay

Ralph Eakins, Karl Seidl, and Donald Worsfold splashed to victory in the 300-yard medley relay, setting a new BG varsity and dual meet record with a 2:56.2.

Donald Kepler set a new dual meet record in the 200-yard freestyle by placing first with a 2:18.3. The 100-yard freestyle dual meet record and first place in the swim was taken by Worsfold in his second victory of the meet in 52.8.

John Thompson swam his way into two dual meet records and two first places as he took the 200-yard individual medley in 2:26 and the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:39.5.

Eakins Breaks Record

Ralph Eakins, after helping to set a relay record, picked up the 200-yard backstroke dual meet re-

Prout I Victorious In Volleyball Tourney

The women's round-robin volleyball tournament was concluded Jan. 12. Undeclared Prout I, captained by Dorothy Tucker, won in group I. Alpha Xi Delta, led by captain Nancy Ford, was the winner in group II. The division play-off for these two teams was held Jan. 16.

In the Tuesday-Thursday league, "Highsockers" of Williams Hall were first in Group I, Marlene Wolf, captain. Kohl II was the winner of group II, Patricia Snider, captain. The division play-off for these two teams will be held Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 17.

The winners of each league will participate in the play-off game Jan. 19. The winner will get its choice of either going to Ohio Northern University Jan. 21 or to Otterbein College March 10.

Winning time was 24.1. The 400-yard freestyle was the only other Falcon loss with James O'Conner taking a second in 5:11.5. Winning time was 5:09.4.

Coach Cooper and the swim squad take to the road to meet Niagara College Jan. 20 and Western Ontario Jan. 21.

Wrestlers Lose To TU, 23-9; Meet Miami Here Tomorrow

Bowling Green's wrestling team dropped its second straight Mid-American Conference match of the year Wednesday night in the Men's Gym, as the Toledo Rockets took a decisive 23-9, victory.

The Falcons were able to win just one match, that coming on a pin in the opening event. The other matches ended in a draw which left the Falcons with just nine points. Five are given the winner of a pin, while two points are given both teams for a draw. A decision merits three points.

Longuil Wins

Mike Longuil got BG off to a good start as he pinned his opponent, Ralph Leistner, late in their 123-lb. match. Longuil has yet to lose a decision in three matches this year.

The next two events ended in draws. In the 130-lb. class, BG's Jack Mikush and TU's Tom Lefler wrestled the nine minutes with neither man taking a point advantage. Each man ended with two points.

Kermit Knowles, BG, followed with another draw as he wrestled the Rocket's Sid Leonard in the 137-lb. class.

TU's McVickers Wins

Dale McVickers, Toledo 157 pounder, pinned the Falcons' Henry Scopes to put the Rockets ahead for good. TU's Harry Kordtig won the 167-lb. match on a pin over Ron Grande after being temporarily injured during the bout.

BG's Chris Ford dropped a tough decision to Dick Bonacci in the 177 weight class, to put Toledo well in the lead. The match concluded as Don Wem, Toledo's outstanding heavyweight, was given a real battle by Karl Koepfer before Wem took the decision.

Tomorrow afternoon the Miami Redskins will come to BG to wrestle the Falcons. The first match will get under way at 2 p.m.

MEMBER OF QUALITY COURTS

Nothing without wings climbs like a '56 Chevrolet!

Ever level off a mountain with your foot? Nothing to it. Just point this new '56 Chevy uphill and ease down on the gas.

Up you go with a quiet (hydraulic-hushed valve lifters now in all engines—V8 or 6) rush of power. This is the car, you know, that broke the Pikes Peak record. The car that conquered towering grades and vicious switchback turns to prove its superior performance, handling ease and cornering ability.

These are built-in qualities that mean more driving pleasure and safety for you. Chevrolet also offers such safety features as seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding as extra-cost options.

There are 19 new Chevrolets—all with Body by Fisher. Drop in and drive one.

Alpha Phi's Say 'Happy Hunting' At Annual Stag Or Drag Dance

"Happy Hunting Grounds," the all-campus dance being sponsored by Alpha Phi Saturday night, will feature an Indian Heaven theme.

The dance is stag or drag, and except for the "Beanie Brawl," is the only dance of this type held during the year.

Silhouettes of Indians doing war dances will decorate the walls. Fall colors of red, yellow, brown, and green will be predominant in the false ceiling. Dancers will enter the gym through a large tepee.

Programs will be in the form of hunting licenses. The backdrop will be decorated with large block letters saying, "Alpha Phi says, 'Happy Hunting!'"

Norm Kondik and his 12-piece band will play for the dance which will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in the Women's Gym.

General chairman of the dance is Mary Ann Majewski. Working under her are the following committees: decorations, Martha Glosner, chairman, Joan Heiser, Janet Dick, Katherine Swigart, and Shirley Klotz; entertainment, Dolores Olenick, chairman, Sally Cummins, and Marianna Parsons;

Methodist Men Reactivate Club

Sigma Theta Epsilon, national Methodist men's fraternity, will reactivate after being inactive for a year and a half, according to Gene Beard, one of the three actives on campus. A meeting was held Jan. 16, and another will be held Feb. 13, when a new pledge class will be started.

"The purpose of the fraternity is to foster more Christian fellowship. We will conduct benefits for charity and help out with projects on campus and in the church," Beard said.

Verne Collins and Ralph Wells are the other members at Bowling Green.

Chem Journal Elects

Gerald Jacobs, a junior, was elected president of the Chemical Journal Club, chapter of the American Chemical Society, at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected were Fred Metz, vice-president; Donald Harsh, treasurer; and Linda Nugent and Carolyn Kissel, secretaries.

Alpha Phi Omega Officers

The newly-elected officers of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, are: James Stein, president; Harrison Chappell, first vice-president; Richard Dassel, second vice-president; William Carmany, corresponding secretary; Arthur Radwin, recording secretary; Sheldon Rabb, treasurer; and John Lepp, historian.

Robert Smith, ODK vice-president, pins the ODK ribbon on Jack Roth. Other ODK members taking part are Gerald Murray, Robert Fitch, Andrew Ogg, and Brad Greenberg.
